Facilities and Resources

Barrington College Australia is located on the Gold Coast, Queensland, along the East Coast of Australia. Barrington College Australia has a spacious modern state-of-the-art campus at Southport, is easily accessible by public transport, with only a walk away to the central business district, and close to major amenities such as cafes and restaurants and student accommodation. Barrington College Australia is within minutes to pristine beaches, breathtaking surf, lush green rain forest and natural hinterlands. Barrington College Australia is in close proximity to Australian Wildlife parks, theme parks and the scenic hinterland and offers multicultural diversity.

Barrington College Australia provides facilities and support services for its students, staff, and visitors. There are generously sized classrooms all with readily available access to laptops or other computers. The campus contains various quiet areas to study outside of designated classroom hours. Students have access to a range of resources relating to their studies and to welfare and support materials.

Qualification

Current information about our courses including study modes, resources and course fees offered for international students is available through our website www.barringtoncollege.edu.au

Contact Hours, Duration and Holidays

International students are required to complete a minimum of 20 hours of study per week. Classes are generally delivered over two days per week on campus and the third day is an elective day either on or off campus. Classes are timetabled between Monday to Friday dependent on the class allocation. On enrolment, students will be provided with a class timetable. Students are also expected to undertake additional study, which may include research, assignments, projects, and other learning activities outside of programmed class times. Course holiday information for international students at Barrington College Australia is available on the College website www.barringtoncollege.edu.au

Course Entry Requirements

Barrington College Australia does not accept students under 18 years of age and therefore it is a mandatory requirement that all participants wishing to enrol must be at least 18 years of age.

Evidence of English Language Assessment must meet the requirements of the Migration Regulations where required.

This evidence may be presented as evidence of previous study in English as the medium of instruction or as results of an acceptable English language proficiency test. Where Migration Regulations apply, Barrington College Australia accepts results from the following test instruments:

Type of English Language Proficiency Test	Required
IELTS (Academic)	6.0 (no band less than 5.5)
TOEFL (Internet-based)	Minimum total score of 64
Pearson Test of English (Academic) (PTE) (A)	50 (no band less than 42)

AND

Satisfactory completion of a High School Certificate Year 12 (for Vocational Courses) or Year 10 (for English Courses), or equivalent, or for mature aged entry students (aged 21 years or above) relevant work experience.

Barrington College Australia has the following minimum, English language proficiency for its courses:

- Vocational Courses: An IELTS band score of 6.0 or above with no band score below 5.5; or Advanced ELICOS Course Certificate from Australia or similar.

Students should note that if their language proficiency is below that outlined above, they may be required to undertake an intensive English language course before beginning academic studies.

All students must complete the International Enrolment Form located on the Barrington College Australia website. The application will be assessed based on admissions criteria, which include course suitability, entry requirements, previous studies, work experience, personal details, prerequisites, and course availability.

Successful applicants will be issued a Letter of Offer and asked to provide further supporting documents.

Where the above documents are not in English, certified translations in English are required, with necessary costs to be met by the applicant.

Unsuccessful applications will be notified in writing.

Barrington College Australia will accept an application from appointed Education or Migration Agents or by direct enrolment by the student through the website. (A current list of agents is available on our website www.barringtoncollege.edu.au and are available for you to contact. Complaints about any agent, activity, their service or Code of Conduct, can be made to the General Manager of the college via email).

Barrington College Australia will enter into a written agreement with the student via the Letter of Offer and Written Agreement as per Standard 3 of the National Code of Practice.

Barrington College Australia will ensure the obligations and rights of both Barrington College Australia and the student are clearly set out including the course money payable and information in relation to refunds of course money and services Barrington College Australia is obliged to supply.

Enrolment Process

1. Complete the International Enrolment Form located on the Barrington College Australia website.
2. The Student Services team will assess your application based on our admissions criteria, which include course suitability, entry requirements, previous studies, work experience, personal details, prerequisites, and course availability.
3. Successful applicants will be issued a Letter of Offer.
4. To accept the offer to study at Barrington College Australia, you must sign the Letter of Offer and pay the required amount as indicated on the Letter of Offer, in addition to the provision and acceptance of other requested documentation.
5. The College will then process and issue a Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) which may be used to apply for a student visa.

Course Credit Recognition

Barrington College Australia offers all students the options of course credit known as Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer (CT).

Students who believe they have already achieved some of the competencies in the course may apply for RPL. An essential requirement of RPL is to provide evidence that the student currently has the required skills and knowledge to meet the Unit of Competency requirements. Competencies for which RPL is being requested may have been developed through formal education and training, through work experience and training or through life experience. If RPL is granted, the student's course schedule will be reviewed and any reduction in the scheduled course length and the reasons for the reduction will be recorded and placed in the student's file.

Any course duration reduction because of RPL or CT granted to students will be indicated on the Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE), if granted prior to the issue of a visa, or on PRISMS if granted after the issue of a visa.

Barrington College Australia will also recognise the qualifications and statements of attainment issued by other Registered Training organisations in Australia. Credit Transfer (CT) means that students may be eligible to get credit towards the course or to meet entry requirement of the course.

To apply for RPL or Credit Transfer, you will need to record this information on the International Enrolment Form in the appropriate education and employment sections.

If a student is eligible to receive more than 25% of course units in credit, the student's CoE duration must be reduced to reflect this change.

Applications for credit must be submitted at the time of enrolment.

In addition to the International Enrolment Form, an applicant should also submit any relevant documentation to support your application eg Statement of Attainment, Record of Results, graduation statements, resume, evidence of training or work experience. All applications will be assessed by the General Manager and advised of the outcome in writing.

Graduates of Barrington College Australia courses may further their studies in relevant programs in Australian Universities. Application processes, entry requirements and credit arrangements will vary from university to university.

Fees and Refunds

There are limits on tuition fees that Barrington College Australia can collect before a student commences a course.

Barrington College Australia is not allowed to require more than 50% of the total tuition fees for the whole course before the student commences, unless the student indicates in writing they wish to pay in advance (unless the course is 24 weeks or less in duration, in which case 100% of the total tuition fees can be requested). After the student commences the course, Barrington College Australia cannot request any remaining tuition fee to be paid earlier than two (2) weeks prior to the commencement of the student's second study period.

Barrington College Australia charges an AUD $250 non-refundable enrolment fee.

Individual payment plans may be available on application to suit a student's circumstances. Application for payment plans must be applied for and approved at the enrolment stage. Students who have negotiated a payment plan will have this formally arranged during orientation via an electronic payment platform called Ignition. Students MUST provide Australian bank details to arrange automatic payments to be deducted from their account. The payment schedule is determined by the duration of the course but must be finalised two months prior to course completion. A $50 administration fee will be incurred for each late payment. Full terms and conditions of the payment plan including non-payment and provider default will be clearly outlined to the student before acceptance.

If a student who has elected to pay course fees (tuition and material fees) through a payment plan withdraws once their enrolment has commenced, the student will be liable for all outstanding fees due, as per the payment plan agreement.

Barrington College Australia reserves the right to withhold certification to students where fee payments are in arrears/outstanding.

Tuition fees due during any deferral/suspension period must be paid by the due date for the continuance of enrolment at Barrington College Australia.

Fees paid by credit card will incur a 2% charge.

The Administration Officer will maintain evidence of fees paid and owing in each student's file or in the Student Management Database which will include the following:

- The total length of the qualification in weeks
- The total weeks of the qualification that the fees apply to for the enrolled course
- Receipts for all payments generated by the student management system
- Any balances that the student is liable for and has not paid.

Refund Policy

Barrington College Australia refund policy is in accordance with the ESOS Act 2000 (as amended), and its accompanying regulations, and it applies to all commencing overseas students. This and other information may be provided to the Australian Government (ASQA, Department of Education and Training, Department of Home Affairs) and, if relevant, the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) Director in relation to administering the ESOS Act 2000, the National Code 2018 and/or the Migration Act (as amended).

All requests for a refund must be made in writing by the student(s) and submitted to Barrington College Australia together with any supporting documentation, if applicable.

Barrington College Australia may arrange for another course, or part of a course, to be provided to the student at no cost to the student as an alternative to refunding the unused portion of the tuition fees. A student has the right to choose whether they prefer a refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees, or to accept a place in another course. If a student chooses placement in another course, Barrington College Australia will ask the student to sign a new Letter of Offer and Student Agreement to indicate that they accept the placement in the new course. If the student agrees to exercise this option, Barrington College Australia is no longer obliged to refund the money owed for the original enrolment.

In the case of a student visa refusal and/or student default, refunds will be made within 28 days of receiving a written request from the student and will include a statement explaining how the refund was calculated.

1. Student Visa Refusal

Written documentation of the student visa refusal from the Department of Home Affairs must be provided by the course applicant to Barrington College Australia. Without written evidence of a refusal from the Department of Home Affairs, no refund will be granted.

1(a) Tuition fees paid at the time of cancellation will be refunded in full if a student visa application lodged offshore is rejected before course commencement. The Enrolment Fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

1(b) If a student is offshore and a student visa has not been issued in time to commence a course at the agreed starting date, and the student contacts Barrington College Australia in writing to agree to a deferred starting date, another commencement date may be arranged and charged a deferral enrolment fee. Should the deferred starting date be unacceptable, the tuition fees paid will be refunded in full at the time of cancellation. The enrolment fee of AU $250 is non-refundable.

1(c) If a student is offshore and a student visa has not been issued in time to commence a course at the agreed starting date, and the student fails to contact Barrington College Australia in writing, until after the commencement date, tuition fees paid will be refunded in full at the time of cancellation. The Enrolment Fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

1(d) Tuition fees paid at the time of cancellation will be refunded in full if a student visa application lodged onshore is rejected before course commencement. The Enrolment Fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

1(e) A student who is onshore must commence a course on the agreed commencement date, although a decision for their student visa application may still be awaiting a decision from the Department of Home Affairs; this includes visa extensions. A pro-rata refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees at the time of their refusal/rejection of their onshore student visa application may be granted to the student after the course commencement date has passed. The Enrolment Fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

2. Student Default

Occurs where an overseas student does not commence a course or withdraws from a course as defined in section 27(2) of the ESOS Act. The student is required to provide written notice to Barrington College Australia for the course cancellation. Refunds will be made as follows:

2(a) 50% of the course fees (tuition & non-tuition) paid if notice of cancellation is received at least eight (8) weeks prior to the course commencement date. The enrolment fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

2(b) 25% of the course fees (tuition & non-tuition) paid if notice of cancellation is received at least four (4) weeks prior to the course commencement date. The enrolment fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

2(c) A pro-rata refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees if notice of cancellation or withdrawal on or after the course commencement date due to confirmed extenuating circumstances. The enrolment fee of AUD $250 is non-refundable.

2(d) No refund of tuition or enrolment fees if notice of cancellation or withdrawal on or after course commencement date without confirmed extenuating circumstances. To avoid any doubt, no refund will be paid to the student if the student withdraws from the course either on or after the agreed commencement date without written evidence.

2(e) No refund is granted where Barrington College Australia terminates an enrolment due to a student failing to satisfy course requirements relating to attendance or academic progress, in accordance with the obligations of the student under the student visa regulations.

2(f) No refund is granted where Barrington College Australia terminates an enrolment due to a student failing to pay an amount they were liable to pay the College, directly or indirectly, to undertake the course.

2(g) No refund is granted where Barrington College Australia terminates an enrolment due to contravening code of behaviour and causing problems for other students, staff, the College's reputation and its relationship with other organisations. This does not affect the student's rights to access Barrington College Australia complaints and appeals processes.

3. Provider Default

Occurs where the registered education provider fails to provide a course or ceases to provide a course to an overseas student in accordance with section 27(1) of the ESOS Act.

Reimbursement in the case of provider default is within two (2) weeks of the default day occurring to the student and will include a statement explaining how the refund was calculated.

3(a) In the unlikely event that Barrington College Australia is unable to deliver a course in full before course commencement, tuition fees paid to the college will be refunded in full.

3(b) In the unlikely event that Barrington College Australia is unable to deliver a course in full after course commencement, a student will be offered a refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees they have paid to the college.

3(c) Alternatively, a student may be offered enrolment in an alternative course by Barrington College Australia at no extra cost to the student. A student has the right to choose whether they would prefer a pro-rata refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees, or to accept a place in another course at Barrington College Australia. If a student chooses a placement in a new course, Barrington College Australia will require the student to sign a new Letter of Offer and Student Agreement to indicate that they accept the placement in the new course.

3(d) If Barrington College Australia is unable to provide a refund, or place a student in an alternative course, the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) will assist the student in finding an alternative course. If a registered education provider of an alternative course offers the student a place in the course, the student may accept the offer in writing within thirty (30) days of the provider obligation period ending, unless the period is varied by the TPS Director. The TPS will transfer any unused portion of tuition fees to the new registered education provider.

3(e) If there are no suitable alternative courses or course offers, the student may apply for a refund to TPS for the amount of any unused portion of the tuition fees that the student has paid to Barrington College Australia. These fees are any tuition fees that student has already paid and that are directly related to the course for which the tuition has not yet been received by the student.

Procedure

Refund application requests are to be made in writing on the Refund Application Form provided by Barrington College Australia and submitted to the Administration Manager for processing.

A student may also be required to submit relevant forms and evidence to support your refund application.

Requests for refunds will be processed and recorded in the refund register and in each student's file via the Student Management Database.

The Administration Manager will ensure all the relevant information has been recorded correctly, including bank details as to where the money is to be deposited, before submitting to the Principal Executive Officer of Barrington College Australia.

The Principal Executive Officer will authorise eligible student refunds and a written explanation as to how the refund was calculated and placed in the student file, for Barrington College Australia records.

An approved refund will always be made directly to the student unless written consent is provided by that student to the College authorising that the refund is instead made to the agent.

If a student is not eligible for a refund, Barrington College Australia will formally notify you of its refund decision in writing.

If a student does not receive a student refund, Barrington College Australia will provide you with the option of appealing the decision. Your request must be made within 20 business days of the student refund decision notice.

All refunds will be paid in Australian dollars and will be processed and paid within 28 business days from receiving the written request.

The enrolment fee is non-refundable under any circumstances.

Students may have extenuating circumstances that prevent them from attending scheduled course dates that may include but are not limited to serious illness, family or personal matters, or reasons that are out of the ordinary.

Where evidence is provided to support the student's circumstances, course fees may either be transferred to the next available course where applicable or a pro-rata refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees may be issued. This decision of assessing the extenuating circumstances rests with the PEO and shall be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

Note: The written agreement, and the availability of a complaints and appeals processes, does not remove the right of the student to act under Australia's consumer protection laws.

Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS)

The Australian Government expects that overseas students studying in Australia will have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding experience and Australia's laws promote equality and consumer protection for overseas students. In turn, Barrington College Australia will ensure that it safeguards overseas students' rights and welfare.

An overseas student on a student visa, must study with a registered education provider in a course that can be found on the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) at <http://cricos.education.gov.au>

CRICOS registration ensures that both the course and the education provider meet the high standards necessary for overseas students.

Students are encouraged to check carefully that the details of their course, including its location, match the information on CRICOS.

As a nationally Registered Training Organisation, also registered on CRICOS, Barrington College Australia meets the standards and requirements of the following legislation and regulatory frameworks:

- The Educational Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Legislative Framework:
  - <https://www.education.gov.au/esos-framework>
  - <https://www.asqa.gov.au/about/asqa/key-legislation/esos#:~:text=The%20Education%20Services%20for%20Overseas,to%20overseas%20students%20must%20meet>
- Vocational Education and Training (VET) Quality Framework including:
  - National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011
  - Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015
- Migration Regulations 1994:
  - http://www.austlii.edu.au/au/legis/cth/consol\_reg/mr1994227/

Privacy Act 1988 incorporating Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012
<http://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-news>

Work Health and Safety Act 2011 & Work Health and Safety Regulations 2011

Student's Rights

The Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Framework protects students' rights, including:

- the right to receive, before enrolling, current and accurate information about the courses, fees, modes of study and other information from their provider and/or their provider's agent or marketing representative;
- the right to sign a written agreement with their provider before or as they pay fees, setting out the services to be provided, fees payable and information about refunds of course money. Students should keep a copy of their written agreement.

The framework includes the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) which is a placement and refund service for international students, which may be activated as a last resort if a provider is unable to provide a course.

The Tuition Protection Service (TPS) is an insurance cover that all CRICOS registered RTOs must have which aims to place students who are affected by closures of education providers in an alternative course of study first, with refund payments provided as a last resort only.

The TPS gives students greater control and responsibility within the placement process by allowing students to make a choice from available alternative course placement options. A greater flexibility for students to decide about their future course placement, following the closure of an education provider, should lead to a more efficient and effective outcome for students and the sector as a whole.

Students should also benefit from quicker placements, or refunds where necessary, and a smoother transition to a new education provider.

The expectation is that students who are affected by the closure of an education provider will accept an alternative course, if one is available, for which they meet all the entry requirements, and for which there is no cost disadvantage to them. However, the student is not compelled to accept an alternative course and they would be eligible for a refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees. The student will need to confirm the possible implications that a change of education provider may have on their student visa with the Department of Home Affairs.

However, other options might include an enrolment in a different course under a different visa category, or a return to their home country.

In a situation where a student cannot find an alternative course during the placement period the student is eligible to request a refund of the unused portion of the tuition fees from TPS.

(Visit the TPS website for more information at www.tps.gov.au. The TPS replaces the tuition Assurance Scheme and the ESOS Assurance fund, although there may still be some references to the superseded terminology in the standards).

The ESOS framework sets out the standards Australian providers offering education and training services to overseas students must meet. These standards cover a range of information students have a right to know and services that must be offered to them, including:

- orientation and access to support services to help students study and adjust to life in Australia
- who the contact officer or officers are for overseas students
- if students can apply for course credit
- when a student's enrolment can be deferred, suspended or cancelled
- what a provider's requirements are for satisfactory progress in the courses and what support is available if students are not progressing well
- if attendance will be monitored, and
- a complaints and appeals process.

Transfer of Providers

In making an enrolment decision, students should be aware that one of the standards does not allow another education provider to enrol a student who wants to transfer to another course but has not completed six (6) months of their principal course of study.

If a student wants to transfer before they have completed six (6) months of their principal course, they need their provider's permission.

At Barrington College Australia, students should note that requests for transfer within the restricted period may be refused under the following circumstances:

- if the request is not considered to be exceptional circumstances relating to the welfare of the students
- if the student has not utilised the College support services that are available to assist with academic or personal issues
- if the College believes the student is trying to avoid being reported to the Australian Government Department of Home Affairs for failing to meet the College academic progress requirements
- if the student is applying to transfer to a lower AQF level of study for reasons other than academic considerations
- if a valid offer letter from another provider has not been received
- if the transfer is perceived as detrimental to the student
- if the request is based on a change of program and the requested program is offered by the College
- if the request is based on personal preference or change of mind only
- if the College believes the student is deliberately trying to manipulate the Australian Student Visa system
- if there are reasonable grounds for believing the student has been deliberately recruited by another registered training provider or education agent.

Barrington College Australia will approve transfer requests within the six (6) month restricted period in the following circumstances where students have supplied sufficient evidence in support of their claims:

- to change course to access greater support through the services of another provider than Barrington College Australia can provide.
- the student demonstrates they are experiencing a threat to their physical or mental health and/or safety by remaining at Barrington College Australia, and demonstrates how this will be alleviated through transfer.
- the student is not coping in the program and has exhausted all avenues of Barrington College Australia academic support and assistance and has not improved their academic performance following an intervention strategy.

- the student is required to move interstate and can provide supporting evidence.
- the student can provide evidence that the program of study is not consistent with the documented program requested on the student's application.
- Barrington College Australia is unable to continue to provide the program of study.

Students will have 20 working days from receipt of a refusal notification to access Barrington College Australia's appeals process.

Student Responsibilities

As an overseas student on a student visa, students have responsibilities to:

- satisfy student visa conditions
- maintain Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the period of their stay
- meet the terms of the written agreement with their education provider
- inform their provider if they change address or contact details
- maintain satisfactory course progress
- follow the provider's attendance policy.

Student Visa Requirements (refer section 3/4 for further information)

According to the Department of Home Affairs, to be granted a student visa, you must provide evidence that satisfies the assessment factors applicable to you. Assessment factors include your financial capacity, English proficiency and other, relevant information that can demonstrate compliance with the conditions of your visa and any other matters considered relevant to assessing your application. Additional information on student visa issues is available on the Department of Home Affairs Internet site on www.immi.homeaffairs.gov.au

About Study at Barrington College Australia

Student Orientation

Student orientation will be conducted prior to your course commencement.

The purpose of orientation is to fully inform new students of aspects of life at the College, to introduce studying, Barrington College Australia policies and procedures, Australia's costs of living, transportation, facilities, banking and accommodation, and to understand culturally appropriate and respectful behaviour. In addition, Barrington College Australia staff will be introduced, a tour of the campus will take place and an opportunity to ask questions will be provided.

Orientations are compulsory for students to attend, as valuable information relating to students' courses will be covered during these sessions. If students are unable to attend due to exceptional circumstances they must contact the Student Services to inform them of the situation and negotiate alternative arrangements. At the time of orientation, students are required to advise Barrington College Australia of their current contact details including residential address, email address and telephone number.

Maintaining Attendance and Course Progress (refer section 4 for further information)

The ESOS Legislative framework requires international students to study a full-time study load which is specified as 20 hours per week of face-to-face teaching. The only reason a student may undertake a reduced study load is if they need to undertake a part-time enrolment to complete a course of study where they need to repeat one or more units for the first time. International students are not entitled to undertake a reduced study load because of credit transfer, exemptions or to repeat non-competent units more than once. Barrington College Australia recommends that all students attend 100% of classes to have the best opportunity to successfully complete the program of study within the expected duration of the program.

If a student is absent due to illness, they should provide a Doctor's certificate (from a registered medical practitioner with a provider number). A receipt is not sufficient. The medical certificate should be given to Student Services or your educator on the first day of joining the class after the illness.

Students may only defer course commencement for medical reasons (illness), or exceptional circumstances beyond their control, such as bereavement, serious illness, or traumatic experiences. Students need to support their application for deferment with evidence such as medical certificates. Weddings, pregnancy, festivals, or family occasions are not acceptable. Students must specify the duration and reason for the deferral and visa cancellation may be initiated by the Department of Home Affairs if the deferral is for more than one semester. Students are advised to contact the Department of Home Affairs, to see if this will impact their visa. To apply for a course deferment, please contact Student Services who will give advice on the procedure.

In turn, Barrington College Australia will only defer or suspend a student enrolment on the grounds of compassionate or compelling circumstances and may suspend or cancel a student's enrolment for misbehaviour by the student (See Student Code of Behaviour) or causing problems for other students, staff, the College's reputation, and its relationship with other organisations or for breaking laws.

Barrington College Australia will also systematically record, monitor, and assess the course progress and/ or attendance of international students. This is primarily to identify and offer support to students who are at risk of failing to meet course progress and/ or attendance requirements.

Under Section 19 of the ESOS Act as a registered provider, Barrington College Australia, will monitor, record and assess the course progress of each student for each unit and will report students who breach the course progress requirements. To demonstrate satisfactory course progress, students will need to achieve competency in at least 80 per cent of units in any study period. Students who have been assessed as not competent may be re-assessed in accordance with Barrington College Australia's assessment policy. However, if the student is not competent after being reassessed, then the student will be deemed as achieving unsatisfactory course progress. Students who have not been deemed competent in 50 per cent or more of the units during each study period are identified as students at risk and subject to an intervention strategy.

Early Intervention

Barrington College Australia adopts an early intervention approach to course progress and attendance. Educators/assessors monitor each student's performance in each unit of competency they are enrolled in. Attendance is monitored by daily sign-in sheets in class. If a student appears to be experiencing difficulty or is absent for more than 5 consecutive days without approval, the educator/assessor will notify the General Manager. The student will be asked to attend a meeting with the General Manager and the educator to discuss where any difficulties lie, and the appropriate support and assistance is provided. This may include internal or external support.

An Intervention Strategy will be implemented where a student is identified as not meeting course progress requirements.

Where students are at risk of failing to meet course progress requirements, Barrington College Australia will implement an intervention strategy to provide the student with academic or welfare support and assistance.

An Intervention Strategy is an individual plan developed by the General Manager and the educator/assessor in consultation with the student. The primary purpose of an Intervention Strategy is to provide specific assistance and/or advice to address the issues preventing the student from achieving competency or attending classes. The Intervention Strategy must be agreed to and signed by the General Manager, the educator and the Student, and a copy placed in the student's file.

Examples of intervention measures may include the following:

- Arranging extra learning support or tutorials.

- Arranging counselling for assistance with personal issues.
- Providing advice regarding study habits (ie maintaining class attendance).
- Providing opportunities for students to be reassessed or to repeat subjects.
- Arranging to vary or reduce the enrolment load for the semester.
- Providing advice regarding course suitability.

Students who have been identified as being “at risk” at the end of a study period will be notified in writing requesting them to attend a course counselling interview with the General Manager within three (3) working days. The students at risk status will be discussed and an appropriate Intervention (and support) Strategy will be developed and formalised to enable the student to complete their studies.

The student will receive a copy of the program that is developed to achieve the required course progress and/or attendance with the next review date on it. The educator/assessor will also receive a copy of the program and will be required to submit a weekly academic involvement report outlining the student’s progress and/ or attendance. The intervention strategy will be implemented until the end of the next study period. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that they follow the intervention program that has been decided upon and to maintain contact with the educator/assessor and/or the General Manager.

If following the implementation of an intervention strategy, a student demonstrates competency through supplementary assessment for units which they have not successfully completed in the previous term, and as a result, they achieve competency in 50% or more of the units attempted in that previous study period, the General Manager will review the student’s academic history, and may cancel the intervention strategy, amend it or continue it unchanged to the end of the term.

The academic progress and or attendance of each student with an intervention strategy will continue to be monitored for the remainder of the second study period and the student’s results will be reviewed at the end. If satisfactory academic progress of 50% or more is achieved during that second term, the student will no longer be regarded as being ‘at risk’ and the intervention contract will no longer be in place.

Unsatisfactory Course Progress

Students who do not achieve satisfactory course progress in two (2) consecutive terms will receive written notification of Barrington College Australia intention to report their unsatisfactory progress to DET via the PRISMS system in accordance with Section 19.2 of the ESOS Act. The Department of Home Affairs will be automatically alerted which may result in the cancellation of the student’s visa.

Students will be advised how to access the Complaints and Appeals process. Students will have 20 working days in which to lodge an appeal against this intention.

After the appeals process is finalised, if the student is still considered to have failed to meet satisfactory course progress, Barrington College Australia will report the student to DET via PRISMS within five (5) working days, and the student will receive a Section 20 Notice. The student must present to the Department of Home Affairs within 28 days to explain the breach, or their student visa may be cancelled.

Copies of the letters, intervention support program and all other relevant documents will be placed in the student’s file and a Diary note be recorded using the System Management Database.

One of the best ways for students to maintain acceptable course progress is to maintain attendance at classes.

Study Periods

For Vocational courses, a study period is defined as one term in length.

Privacy Policies

Barrington College Australia: Privacy Policy

Introduction

Barrington College Australia (referred to as 'we', 'us' or 'our' throughout this policy document) has implemented this Privacy Policy to provide individuals with information about how we hold and use the personal information that we collect. ## NCVER Privacy Notice

Under the Data Provision Requirements 2012, Barrington College Australia is required to collect personal information about you and to disclose that information to the National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER).

Privacy Notice

Why do we collect your personal information?

As a registered training organisation (RTO), we collect your personal information so we can process and manage your enrolment in a vocational education and training (VET) course with us. Without the required personal information requested in our enrolment form, Barrington College Australia is unable to process a student's enrolment in their requested course.

How do we use your personal information?

We use your personal information to enable us to deliver VET courses to you, and otherwise, as needed, to comply with our obligations as an RTO.

How do we disclose your personal information?

We are required by law (under the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011 (Cth) (NVETR Act)) to disclose the personal information we collect about you to the National VET Data Collection kept by the National Centre for Vocational Education Research Ltd (NCVER). The NCVER is responsible for collecting, managing, analysing and communicating research and statistics about the Australian VET sector. We are also authorised by law (under the NVETR Act) to disclose your personal information to the relevant state or territory training authority.

How do the NCVER and other bodies handle your personal information?

The NCVER will collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information in accordance with the law, including the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act) and the NVETR Act. Your personal information may be used and disclosed by NCVER for purposes that include populating authenticated VET transcripts; administration of VET; facilitation of statistics and research relating to education, including surveys and data linkage; and understanding the VET market. The NCVER is authorised to disclose information to the Australian Government Department of Education (DoE), Commonwealth authorities, State and Territory authorities (other than registered training organisations) that deal with matters relating to VET and VET regulators for the purposes of those bodies, including to enable:

- Administration of VET, including program administration, regulation, monitoring and evaluation.
- Facilitation of statistics and research relating to education, including surveys and data linkage.
- Understanding how the VET market operates, for policy, workforce planning and consumer information.

The NCVER may also disclose personal information to persons engaged by NCVER to conduct research on NCVER's behalf. The NCVER does not intend to disclose your personal information to any overseas recipients. For more information about how the NCVER will handle your personal information please refer to the NCVER's Privacy Policy at www.ncver.edu.au/privacy. If you would like to seek access to or correct your information, in the first instance, please contact us using the contact details listed here <https://www.barringtoncollege.edu.au/contact-us/>. DoE is authorised by law, including the Privacy Act and the NVETR Act, to collect, use and disclose your personal information to fulfil specified functions and activities. For more information about how the DoE will handle your personal information, please refer to the DoE VET Privacy Notice at <https://www.DoE.gov.au/national-vet-data/vet-privacy-notice>.

Surveys

You may receive a student survey which may be run by a government department or an NCVER employee, agent, third-party contractor, or another authorised agency. Please note you may opt out of the survey at the time of being contacted. The NCVER does not intend to disclose your personal information to any overseas recipients. For more information about how the NCVER will handle your personal information please refer to the NCVER's Privacy Policy at www.ncver.edu.au/privacy. If you would like to seek access to or correct your information, in the first instance, please contact us using the contact details listed here <https://www.barringtoncollege.edu.au/contact-us/>. DoE is authorised by law, including the Privacy Act and the NVETR Act, to collect, use and disclose your personal information to fulfil specified functions and activities. For more information about how the DoE will handle your personal information, please refer to the DoE VET Privacy Notice at <https://www.DoE.gov.au/national-vet-data/vet-privacy-notice>.

Surveys

You may receive a student survey which may be run by a government department or an NCVET employee, agent, third-party contractor, or another authorised agency. Please note you may opt out of the survey at the time of being contacted.

Contact information

At any time, you may contact Barrington College Australia to:

- Request access to your personal information
- Correct your personal information
- Make a complaint about how your personal information has been handled
- Ask a question about this Privacy Notice

Student Contact Details

Upon arriving in Australia students are required to advise the college of their residential address, including phone/mobile numbers, contact email address, emergency contact details and then advise any subsequent changes to these details

Barrington College Australia will also contact students at least every six (6) months during their enrolment and require them to confirm their personal details in writing.

The update of student contact details is very important. The college may send warning notices to the student, which is aimed at helping to prevent breaches of student visa conditions. It is the student's responsibility and it is in the student's own interests that they always update their address details to ensure that important information about the course, tuition fees and possible breaches of the student visa are received.

Unique Student Identifier (USI)

All students undertaking nationally recognised training delivered by an RTO are required to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI) before an award such as a qualification or statement of attainment can be issued. A USI is effectively an individual's account or reference number that allows students to access all their training records, entered in the national vocational education and training (VET) data collection. The USI will enable students to find, collate and authenticate their VET achievements into a single transcript and:

- Link information about VET achievements, regardless of where they studied
- Enable students to easily access secure digital transcripts of their achievements
- Give students access to, and more control over their educational information
- Ensure that students' VET records are not lost

Training organisations will be able to verify student achievements to determine pre-requisites, credit transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) if applicable. If students have already attained a USI they will need to provide Barrington College Australia (and other RTOs you may study with) with the USI on enrolment (or prior to results being finalised). To obtain a USI, students should visit: <http://usi.gov.au/Students/Pages/steps-to-create-your-USI.aspx> The USI is available online and at no cost.

Student Access to Coursework and Assessments

Students can print off copies of their workbooks and assessments as they progress through their course to keep for future reference. As students' progress through their course, access to individual units that have already been completed will be removed. Any requests for access to learning material once a student no longer has access to a particular workbook must be made in writing. If access is approved by the college, students may be required to sign a declaration stating that the information contained within a workbook will not be shared with any other party. Students should contact Student Services for further information.

Student Code of Behaviour (refer to section 4 for further information)

Barrington College Australia respects the beliefs and cultures of all people. All students are required to display tolerance towards the views of others, even when they conflict with their own. In return, students have the right to be respected for their own beliefs and culture. The Student Code of Behaviour requires the following rights to be always respected and adhered to by students:

- maintain academic conduct and integrity
- maintain attendance and course progress
- give all class members the opportunity to learn in a quiet, non-disruptive, environment free of harassment and discrimination
- do not come to campus/ class under the influence of drugs (prohibited substances) or alcohol
- bring all resources and equipment required to complete learning and assessment
- follow educator/assessor instructions at all times
- complete and submit assessment activities on or before the due date
- comply with Workplace Health and Safety obligations whilst on campus
- in accordance with the Anti-Discrimination Act 1991, Barrington College Australia does not tolerate any form of discrimination. Students have the right to work and learn in an environment free of discrimination and harassment, and in turn, a responsibility to maintain this environment.

Any reports of discrimination or harassment will be treated seriously and investigated promptly, confidentially, and impartially. Bullying is defined as 'the repeated less favourable treatment of a person by another or others in the workplace, which may be considered unreasonable and inappropriate workplace practice'. It includes behaviour that offends, intimidates, degrades or humiliates an employee or student. Individuals who are subjected to bullying should immediately report any incident to the General Manager.

Barrington College Australia in accordance with the Anti-Discrimination Act 1991 and the Sexual Discrimination Act 1984 considers sexual harassment an unacceptable and illegal form of behaviour that will not be tolerated under any circumstances. Sexual harassment is any unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. If a reasonable person would anticipate this behaviour might make you feel offended, humiliated, or intimidated, it may be sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is unlawful under the Sex Discrimination Act 1984 (Cwth).

Examples include:

- Sexually oriented jokes, innuendo or verbal abuse
- Non-verbal acts like leering or sexual body gestures
- Physical contact such as patting, pinching or touching, hugging, putting an arm around another person's body at work and brushing against another person's body
- Person unwelcome invitations or telephone calls from colleagues at work or at home
- Sexual assault or rape

Any allegations of sexual harassment brought to the attention of Barrington College Australia will be promptly investigated. Confidentiality will be maintained throughout the investigation to the extent practical and appropriate under the circumstances. Individuals found to have engaged in misconduct constituting sexual harassment will be severely disciplined, up to and including termination of enrolment and/or reported to the appropriate authority.

Barrington College Australia will not in any way retaliate against an individual who makes a complaint of sexual harassment or against any participant in the investigation, nor permit any student or staff member to do so. Retaliation is a serious violation of this sexual harassment policy and should be reported immediately. Any person found to have retaliated against another individual for reporting sexual harassment will be subject to the same disciplinary action provided for sexual harassment offenders.

Academic Conduct - Cheating, Plagiarism and Collusion

Academic misconduct includes but is not limited to cheating - including supporting others in cheating, plagiarism, collusion – including working in groups where not approved by the teacher, electronic plagiarism and falsifying information, including the use of artificial intelligence (AI).

Barrington College Australia is committed to upholding high standards of training and assessment and requires all students to:

- Participate in learning and training & conduct research with honesty & integrity
- Where necessary, acknowledge and seek permission to use the work of another
- Understand that all work submitted for assessment must be their own work and in no way falsified or completed by another person
- Reference carefully the copyright works used to avoid plagiarism, which is considered 'academic misconduct'.

The Principal Executive Officer may take action to suspend or cancel a student's enrolment incircumstances where the student breaches the 'Student Code of Behaviour'. Options for actioning suspension or cancelation of a student's enrolment also includes if the student becomes the subject of an external state or commonwealth government investigation such as the police, tax office or immigration. Decisions made by the Principal Executive Officer will be documented and sent to the student as per Standard 9 of the National Code of Practice: Deferral, suspension and cancellation. The student has the right to appeal the decision as per the Complaints and Appeals policy and procedure.

Once the complaint or appeal has been resolved or where a student chooses not to lodge a complaint or appeal, Barrington College Australia must notify the Secretary of DET via PRISMS under section 19 of the ESOS Act within 14 days of the date that the appeal period ends. Barrington College Australia will not notify DET of any suspension or cancellation whilst an internal appeal is being determined unless there are serious concerns regarding the student's welfare.

Serious concerns may include, but are not limited to:

- The student is missing and cannot be contacted
- The student has medical concerns such as depression or psychological issues
- The student engages or threatens to engage in behaviour which is believed to endanger other students
- The student is at risk of committing a criminal offence.

The Student Code of Behaviour will be further discussed at orientation.

Barrington College Australia will engage law enforcement where students are involved in the following cases;

- possession of a weapon, including, but not limited to firearms
- trafficking in drugs and weapons
- robbery
- use of a weapon to cause bodily harm, or to threaten serious harm
- acts of vandalism causing extensive damage to BCA property or property located on BCA premises and
- bodily harm.

The National Code of Practice does not require Barrington College Australia to continue providing learning opportunities throughout the 20 working days allowed to appeal the decision and during the internal complaints and appeals process. Based on the nature of the misconduct, Barrington College Australia will decide, on a case by case basis, whether to allow the student to continue to attend class, to make alternative study arrangements for the student, or to deny the student access to study opportunities. In making such a decision Barrington College Australia will consider whether denying the student learning opportunities throughout the 20-day appeal period and during the internal complaints and appeals process may disadvantage the student in their subsequent studies should the complaints and appeals process find in their favour.

Complaints and Appeals

Barrington College Australia ensures that all stakeholders including students have access to a fair, equitable and efficient complaints and appeals process.

The definition of a complaint is

- a person's expression of dissatisfaction with any service provided by Barrington College Australia. Students may raise any matters of concern relating to training delivery and assessment, the quality of the teaching, student amenities, discrimination, sexual harassment, and other issues that may arise.

The definition of Appeal is

- a request to review a decision that has previously been made.

Students are initially encouraged to resolve concerns or difficulties with the person concerned before it becomes a formal complaint. If a student is dissatisfied with the outcome of a decision, they may access an independent external body as required and as described in the External Appeals section of this document.

Internal complaints and appeals will incur no costs to the student. Barrington College Australia will ensure that prompt decisions will be made to ensure a student's visa will not be restricted and affect the student's stay in Australia. The Principal Executive Officer is responsible for the implementation of this procedure and ensuring that staff and students are made aware of its application.

The written agreement with the student, and the availability of complaints and appeal processes, do not remove the right of the student to act under Australia's consumer protection laws:

This policy is applicable to all complaints and appeals made by students irrespective of the reason for the initial decision.

Informal Complaints Procedure

In the first instance, students are encouraged to try and resolve concerns or difficulties directly with the person involved. However, if the student is not comfortable with this approach or this approach is not possible for any reason, the student may raise the matter with any Barrington College Australia staff member. If students are not satisfied with the outcome of the informal process they are encouraged to register a formal complaint.

Formal Complaint Procedure

To register a formal complaint a student must complete the Student Complaint Form and contact the General Manager to arrange a meeting. At this meeting, the complaint can be discussed, and a resolution attempted. The student may be accompanied and assisted by a support person at this meeting.

If a student is dissatisfied with the outcome of this meeting, then the student will have an opportunity to formally present their case at no cost to the student, in writing or in person to the Principal Executive Officer of Barrington College Australia. The complaint is recorded in writing by completing the student complaint form prior to the meeting or a new document can be prepared and signed during the meeting.

The Principal Executive Officer will endeavour to resolve the complaint with the student and any other parties who may be involved. The resolution phase will commence within 10 working days of the complaint being lodged in writing. A maximum time of 20 working days from the commencement of the resolution phase will be allowed for the resolution unless all parties agree in writing to extend this time. Where it is expected that the complaint resolution may take more than 60 days, Barrington College Australia will advise the student accordingly and continue to provide the student with progress of the complaint process.

At the end of the resolution phase the Principal Executive Officer will give a written statement of the outcome, including the details of the reasons for the outcome by letter or email to the student (last known address). Barrington College

Australia's decision and reasons for the decision will be documented by the Principal Executive Officer and placed in the student's file.

Internal Appeals Procedure

Internal appeals may arise from several sources including appeals against assessment, appeals against disciplinary actions and appeals against decisions arising from complaints. The essential nature of an appeal is that it is a request by a student to reconsider a decision made by Barrington College Australia.

Students have the right to appeal decisions that they consider to be unfavourable and/or unreasonable; or where Barrington College Australia's intention is to report the student due to the following:

- unsatisfactory course progression
- non-payment of fees
- other matters related to a student's program of study at Barrington College Australia

Students lodging an appeal must outline the decision and reasons for the appeal, including any compassionate or compelling circumstances, and may provide documentary evidence in support of their appeal. Appeals must be received within the timeframe as specified above. A student must submit their appeal in writing by completing an Appeal Application Form for consideration by an Appeals Committee, consisting of the General Manager, and 2 other persons (such as relevant training and/or content expert, industry representative) not directly involved in the initial decision/assessment.

Where a student attends a meeting as part of the Appeals process, the student has the right to be accompanied and assisted by a support person in every meeting they attend. Students have up to 20 business days to lodge an internal appeal against Barrington College Australia formal notification of intent to report the student. Internal appeals for any other decisions related to a student's program of study at Barrington College Australia must be lodged within five (5) working days of the date the decision was communicated to the student in writing. If an internal appeal is not lodged within the specified timeframe, the decision will stand. All documentation lodged must be original documents or certified copies, no photocopies or facsimiles will be accepted.

A student's enrolment will be maintained, and students are required to attend all classes during an internal appeals process. However, in circumstances where a student is issued with a letter of intent to report for non-payment of fees, a student may be excluded from the classes until all overdue fees are paid in full. When a student is reported for Unsatisfactory Course Progress, Barrington College Australia will maintain the enrolment of the student, which means Barrington College Australia does not notify DET of any change to the student's enrolment status through PRISMS until both an internal is complete which may support Barrington College Australia's decision to report.

The appeal resolution phase will commence within 10 working days of the internal appeal being lodged in writing. A maximum time of 30 working days from the commencement of the appeal resolution phase will be allowed for the appeal resolution unless all parties agree in writing to extend this time. Students appealing an assessment or RPL outcome will be given the opportunity for reassessment by a different assessor selected by the General Manager with the costs of reassessment met by Barrington College Australia. The student will be provided with a written statement of the outcome of the internal appeals process within five (5) business days of the appeal hearing, including details of the reasons for the outcome, and any actions to be undertaken. The outcome of the internal appeal and reasons for the outcome will be recorded in writing and signed and dated by the student and the Principal Executive Officer and placed in the student's file.

When the complaint handling and appeal process results in a decision that supports the student, Barrington College Australia will immediately implement any decision and or corrective and preventative action required and advise the student of the outcome.

External Appeals

If a student is dissatisfied with the internal appeal decision, Barrington College Australia will nominate the Ombudsmen to hear the complaint to propose a final resolution. This person or body will not be the same as any person or body that heard the original complaint. The purpose of an external appeal process is to consider whether Barrington College Australia has followed the correct policies and procedures in making the appeal decision but is not to review the decision previously made by Barrington College Australia. Students who wish to have their case heard by an external body, must notify the General Manager of their External Appeals lodgement detail within 5 business days from the date on the written notification of the outcome of the student's internal appeal. Students are required to immediately advise Barrington College Australia of the outcome of the external appeals process.

If an appeal is lodged regarding Barrington College Australia decision to report the student for unsatisfactory course progress or unsatisfactory attendance, Barrington College Australia will maintain the student's enrolment (ie not report the student for unsatisfactory progress or attendance) until the external appeals process is complete and has supported the provider's decision to report. If an appeal is lodged regarding Barrington College Australia decision to suspend or cancel a student's enrolment or suspend a student's enrolment due to misbehaviour Barrington College Australia only needs to await the outcome of the internal appeals process (supporting the provider) before notifying DET through PRISMS of the change to the student's enrolment. Once DET has been notified of a suspension or cancellation of a student's enrolment, the student has 28 days in which to either leave Australia, provide Department of Home Affairs with evidence that they have accessed an external appeals process or show the Department of Home Affairs a new Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE).

Nothing in this procedure inhibits the student's right to pursue other legal remedies. Students are entitled to resolve any dispute by exercising their rights to other legal remedies. Students wishing to take this course of action are advised to contact a legal representative and will incur all costs of this action.

Ombudsman

The Overseas Students Ombudsman offers a free and independent service for overseas students who have a complaint or want to lodge an external appeal about a decision made by their private education or training provider. See the Overseas Students Ombudsman website <https://www.ombudsman.gov.au/How-we-can-help/overseas-students> or email ombudsman@ombudsman.gov.au or phone 1300 362 072 for more information.

The Overseas Students Ombudsman will investigate complaints at no cost to the provider or student. The Overseas Students Ombudsman can investigate complaints about actions taken by private providers in connection with overseas students. Complaints might, for example, be about:

- refusing admission to a course
- fees and refunds
- course or provider transfers
- course progress or attendance
- cancellation of enrolment
- accommodation or work arranged by a provider
- incorrect advice given by an education agent

The Ombudsman's office may take several weeks to investigate the student's appeal. Should international students have concerns regarding their student visa during this time, they should seek advice from the Department of Home Affairs.

Studying in Australia

Australia is a multicultural country, with much natural beauty including golden beaches, coral reefs rich with marine life, tropical rainforests, mountain ranges, vast grazing lands and sparse deserts. One of the oldest continents, Australia is the only country to occupy an entire continent. Surrounded by the Indian and Pacific Oceans, Australia has many animals and plants, which are unique on the planet.

Arts & Multiculturalism

Australian contemporary arts reflect the world's oldest continuous cultural traditions and a diverse, multicultural society. Our visual and performing arts communities receive international acclaim for their vibrancy, originality and cutting-edge work in the arts, literature, stage and cinema, dance, classical music and contemporary Australian rock music.

The National Museum of Australia opened as part of Australia's Centenary of Federation celebrations in 2001. It is co-located with the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies in the nation's capital city of Canberra and adds to more than 1000 museums throughout Australia.

More than 100 ethnic groups are represented in Australia, making Australia one of the most culturally diverse countries in the world. Australia's dynamic multiculturalism can be attributed to its unique combination of Indigenous cultures, early European settlement, and immigration from all parts of the world. Australians value the wealth of cultural diversity and social sophistication that international students bring to our campuses and our communities. We take great care in looking after international students and helping them to adjust to the Australian way of life. International students also gain great benefits from their education in Australia and make lifelong friendships.

Language

Although English is the official language, a host of other languages are spoken in Australia. As one of the most culturally diverse countries in the world many Australians are naturally fluent in other languages. More than 2.4 million Australians speak a language other than English at home. Within the education and training system about 15 per cent of those of working age studying for an educational qualification have English as a second language. More than 800,000 Australians speak a European Union language, apart from English, in the home. Another 800,000 Australians speak an Asian language in the home.

In Australia, not only is there the opportunity to improve your English through specialist study in an English-speaking environment but all sectors of Australian education and training provide tuition in many other languages as well. English as it is spoken in Australia is very easily understood by nearly all people from other English-speaking nations. While there are some minor differences in accent between the cities and country areas the difference is much less than you will find in America, Britain, and Canada where French is also spoken. As you improve your English in Australia, you will learn some of our slang, and have much fun explaining the meanings to your friends and relatives at home.

Costs of Living

In addition to paying the full cost of their courses, international students must meet all their own travel and living expenses, plus any student association fees or administrative charges made by the institution.

From October 2023, the 12-month cost of living as stated by the Department of Home Affairs, is as follows:

- AUD$24,505 a year for a student
- AUD$8,574 a year for a partner/spouse
- AUD$3,670 a year for a child.

Under the Department of Home Affairs regulations, prospective student visa applicants and their family members must have genuine access to these funds while in Australia.

Accommodation options (refer section 3)

Australia has a variety of high standard student accommodation available to suit different budgets and needs and there are several long-term housing options, such as hostels (rooming houses), Homestay (living with a family in their home), and rental properties (either on your own or sharing with others). Shared accommodation with other students is common and popular and student notice boards and newspapers often advertise rooms, apartments and houses for rent.

Most accommodation, except homestay, does not include electrical appliances, household equipment, sheets and blankets etc. Second-hand household goods are available quite cheaply, but students may wish to bring some of their own basic items.

Websites (eg <http://www.domain.com.au> and <http://www.realestate.com.au>) list accommodation for rent and provide a good idea of the type and cost of accommodation that is available.

Similarly, specialised homestay providers may assist students with a range of homestay accommodation and meet-and-greet options: <http://www.homestaynetwork.org/public/students>

For further information, please refer to the following websites:

- <http://www.studiesinaustralia.com/studying-in-australia/accommodation>
- <https://www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au/help-centre/youth-and-seniors/youth/international-students>

As a guide only, students may expect to pay approximately:

- Full Board (Homestay) AUD$290 – AUD$360 per week
- Half Board (Homestay) AUD$290 – AUD$305 per week (plus expenses)
- Hostel/Guesthouse AUD$150 – AUD$200 per week
- Leasing a House/Flat AUD$400 – AUD$700 per week (unfurnished) (plus expenses)
- Share accommodation AUD$200 – AUD$400 per week (plus expenses)

Schooling (refer to section 3)

A school-age family member joining the student in Australia is expected to attend school in Australia. Evidence of enrolment for them must be provided if they are to be granted a student visa as a family unit member. In most cases, public and private schools charge fees for family unit members of student visa holders. The student is responsible for the payment of school fees and for ensuring the student's family unit member attends school throughout the period of study in Australia. For the international student dependents, please consult the following websites for more information:

- <https://www.eqi.com.au>
- <http://www.isq.qld.edu.au/international-students>

Safety

Australia is a comparatively safe place to live with a relatively low crime rate, but students must take the necessary precautions to protect themselves, just like they would at home. Looking after their safety, health and overall wellbeing is important, especially while dealing with the added stresses of being in a new country and adjusting to a new way of life. It is important to always be alert and aware of your surroundings and to avoid dangerous areas and activities, particularly at night. Please refer to the following website for safety tips in Australia:

- <https://www.studyinaustralia.gov.au/global/live-in-australia/health-and-safety>

Working in Australia

Students must not engage in work in Australia for more than 48 hours per fortnight during any period when the student's course of study or training is in session and they must not engage in work before the course for which the initial student visa was granted commences. A fortnight means a period of fourteen (14) days, commencing on any Monday and ending on the second following Sunday.

Please note: No work restriction (limits) apply during recognised periods of holidays (ie any scheduled course breaks and official Barrington College Australia holidays).

For further information, please refer to the following website:

- <http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Stud/More/Work-conditions-for-Student-visa-holders>

There are several ways to find work in Australia. Students can find job advertisements in local newspapers and on websites such as:

- <http://www.seek.com.au>
- <http://www.careerone.com.au>
- <http://www.mycareer.com>
- <http://www.govolunteer.com.au>

Many international students work part-time or casually to help support themselves while studying in Australia. No matter where they are from, international students get the same pay and conditions as Australian employees. Students are encouraged to maintain a work diary to ensure their rights are met.

Why do you need a work diary?

There are rules about what hours you work, how much you get paid and how often you can have a break. A work diary will help you keep track of your work and help you check your pay and other entitlements. You can also use it to write things that happen at work, if a problem arises. You can use any diary to keep records or even your iPhone or iPad.

What should you put in your work diary?

A work diary should record all the details about your work like:

- Roster times
- The time you start, and finish work each day

Keeping these details in your work record will help you work out your pay.

You can check the Fair Work Ombudsman's website for information about pay at www.fairwork.gov.au/pay and other work entitlements like breaks at www.fairwork.gov.au/employeeentitlements

How do I use my work diary?

Fill in your diary every day you work. It's a good idea to do this after you finish work while everything is fresh in your mind. Your employer should have records of your work, so you don't have to give your diary to them. But if you must talk to your supervisor or boss about your entitlements or a problem, you should give them a copy of the parts of the diary that you filled in on those days.

You can show your work diary to someone else who is helping you with a problem with your entitlements, like the Fair Work Ombudsman.

You can also use your work diary if you must go to court to get your entitlements.

If you use your personal diary as your work diary, you can cover up personal information before sharing it with others.

www.fairwork.gov.au/languages

Refer to the Fair Work Ombudsman's Starting a new job guide which will help you understand your rights and responsibilities when settling into a new job at www.fairwork.gov.au/newjob

The guide has been translated, including into Chinese, Korean and Vietnamese. You can find the language versions on the relevant language page.

Smoking and Vaping

Australia has tough anti-smoking legislation. Smoking products includes any tobacco products, herbal cigarettes, loose smoking blend and personal vaporisers (such as e-cigarettes and vape pens). Smoking, including the use of electronic cigarettes is banned in numerous outdoor public areas, eating and drinking venues and education, healthcare and aged care facilities across Queensland.

Smoking is not permitted inside any enclosed public space. This includes all Barrington College Australia buildings, toilets, stairwells and carparks. Students who wish to smoke in their personal time or study break times need to go outside and at least 5 metres beyond the College boundaries.

The City Council may issue on-the-spot fines to anyone found smoking in a no-smoking area.

Further information on smoking laws in Queensland can be found at <https://www.qld.gov.au/health/staying-healthy/atods/smoking/laws>

Welfare Support

Barrington College Australia aims to ensure that all students enjoy their time in Australia. However, sometimes problems occur in a student's life that can't be controlled. Barrington College Australia understands that these problems often feel worse when students are a long way from home and family. Barrington College Australia can provide information about counselling services if students need to speak to a counsellor. A counsellor may be able to help with the following, or any other, problems:

- Crises
- Difficulty in making an important decision;
- Feeling depressed
- Feeling highly stressed
- Alcohol/drug abuse, gambling or other addictive behaviour that is seriously affecting health or social functioning, including study
- Eating disorders
- Suicidal thoughts.

Competency Based Training and Assessment

Nationally recognised training programs such as Certificates and Diplomas are competency based which means that training and assessment activities or recognition skills and knowledge focuses on a student's ability to apply relevant knowledge and skills to demonstrate performance of workplace tasks to a standard specified by that industry.

The specific skills and knowledge required for workplace application are detailed in Units of Competency and these may be delivered on their own, or 'packaged' together by a training organisation to make up a nationally recognised qualification, based on the requirements specified in the Training Packages.

To be considered competent in any Unit of Competency students must be able to demonstrate the required skills and knowledge to complete work tasks in a range of situations and environments. This may include demonstrating performance and skills in real work situations or in simulated applications (such as case studies, projects, demonstrations) over a period of time.

Evidence (assessment) collected by assessors must sufficiently demonstrate the following:

- That a student can do the job or task to the required standard
- That a student understands why the job should be done in a particular way
- That students can handle unexpected issues or problems
- That students can work with others 'in a team'

- That students can do more than one thing at a time, eg perform the task and be aware of the occupational health and safety requirements
- That students know the industry or workplace legislation, rules and procedures.

Competency based training and assessment is all about providing students with every opportunity to develop competencies. If evidence (assessment) does not satisfy the assessment requirements (criteria, benchmarks) assessors will provide feedback and possibly additional support (such as allowing a student an opportunity to provide additional evidence, do more research or practice skills before they demonstrate them again) and may negotiate additional or alternative assessment for resubmission or re-assessment.
